

BOYD INDUSTRIES

Award-winning
operatory equipment

For 60+ years, Boyd Industries has manufactured award-winning operatory equipment for dedicated orthodontists. Just as orthodontists offer specialized treatment to their patients, Boyd provides patient chairs, delivery systems, exam lights, stools and more to meet orthodontists' high standards and aesthetic preferences. These featured products prove Boyd's dedication to providing equipment that is built to last and "built for you."

The M3000LC, Boyd's most popular orthodontic patient treatment chair, is affordable, feature-rich and time-tested, with 8-inch vertical lift for ergonomic positioning. The award-winning M3010 series is perfect for orthodontic consultation rooms; a drop-toe design provides the most natural seated position for patients during consultations or minor exams.

Boyd builds a range of standard delivery units for chairside, rear and concealed delivery to maximize functionality and efficiency in unique workspaces. These blend seamlessly into any office design, with a nearly limitless selection of laminates designed to withstand cleaning and daily use.

The BOS-279 is Boyd's most popular doctor or assistant seat, offering an ergonomic saddle seat, adjustable height and tilt with a floating lumbar-support back. With a wide range of adjustments, Boyd's seats promote daily comfort and long-term health.

Boyd's C300 and C500 LED exam lights provide the latest in operatory light technology. Each model emits clear and natural white light for clear visibility at all times. LEDs ensure cool, power-efficient and reliable operation.

For more information, visit boydindustries.com.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Commitment to quality, commitment to you.
Boyd Industries' specialized operatory equipment is produced in the U.S. at its ISO 13485 quality-certified factory, using the highest-quality materials to ensure the long-term reliability of its products.
- Built to last. Built for you. Built by Boyd.
Although Boyd offers a broad selection of standard products, the company prides itself on tailoring its operatory products to any orthodontist's unique spatial, aesthetic and functional requirements. Boyd proudly provides the widest range of upholstery, laminate and solid surface options from industry-leading brands, with a nearly limitless selection of colors and prints.
- Connect with the Boyd team. Boyd's doctor-direct sales approach allows the company to provide personalized care while equipping orthodontists' new or satellite offices. Boyd's trained sales team helps orthodontists select the right solutions for their needs, and support them from quote to completion and beyond.